Page 255 of part 2 incorrectly numbered 155. 2 parts in 1 volume. $150.00

First Mexican Edition of this Spanish translation of Bolgeni's L'Episcopato, Rome 1789.

Provenance: Sir Thomas Phillipps, 1st Baronet (1792-1872) was an English antiquary and book collector who amassed the largest collection of manuscript material in the 19th century, due to his severe condition of bibliomania. He was an illegitimate son of a textile manufacturer and inherited a substantial estate, which he spent almost entirely on vellum manuscripts, and, when out of funds, borrowed heavily to buy manuscripts, thereby putting his family deep into debt. Phillipps began his collecting while still at Rugby and continued at Oxford. Eventually he acquired some 40,000 printed books and 60,000 manuscripts, arguably the largest collection a single individual has created, and coined the term "vello-maniac" to describe his obsession. A.N.L. Munby notes that he spent perhaps between two hundred thousand and a quarter of a million pounds, altogether four or five thousand pounds a year, while accessions came in at the rate of forty or fifty a week. He was an assiduous cataloguer who established the Middle Hill Press (named after his country seat at Broadway, Worcestershire) in 1822 not only to record his book holdings but also to publish his findings in English topography and genealogy. Ultimately, the dispersal of his collection took over 100 years. A five-volume history of the collection and its dispersal, Phillipps Studies, by A. N. L. Munby was published between 1951 and 1960.

Mexico: En la Imprenta de D. Felipe de Zuñiga y Ontiveros, 1774. Folio (31 x 20.5 cm.), recent navy Oasis morocco, spine with raised bands in six compartments, crimson Oasis lettering piece on front cover, gilt letter, antique marbled endleaves. Large woodcut Spanish royal arms on title-page. Woodcut initials. Typographical headpiece. Tables in text. In very good to fine condition. Old (contemporary?) ink numbers "158", "175", and "187" at upper right corner of title page and each divisional title. (1 l.), 32, 23, 15 pp. [ J<sup>3</sup>, B-S<sup>2</sup>. $2,600.00

FIRST EDITION of these regulations for the administration of the Spanish garrison housed in the fortress of the Isla del Carmen (Yucatán Peninsula), which had been built as a permanent home for the soldiers tasked with rebuffing the pirates who had been ousted from the island a few decades earlier, and who continued to attack it. Included are positions and salaries of all personnel and regulations for clothing, horses, weapons, a hospital, and a chapel.

The second section (drop-title: Instruccion para el gobierno interior y buen régimen de la Guarnicion del Presidio del Carmen, que observarán puntualmente los Comandantes de los tres Cuerpos que la componen, igualmente que el Gobernador en la parte que le toque) goes into quite specific detail about the uniforms for dragoons, infantry, and artillery; housing for married soldiers; preserving morale; care of horses; and artillery exercises.

The third section (drop title: Instruccion y metodo con que se ha de establecer el Hospital para la tropa de la Guarnicion del Presidio de Nuestra Señora del Carmen, y en que se expresan las obligaciones de cada uno de los Individuos empleados en su servicio) deals with the hospital and the duties of those employed there, including cooks, pharmacists, surgeons, blood-letters, and nurses.

Despite the separate pagination, the quire signatures follow from the first section through the third. An edition with additions by Pedro Gorostiza was published in Mexico, 1791 (56 pp.).

The Isla de Tris, on a lagoon at the western end of the Yucatán Peninsula, was discovered by the Spanish in 1518 but left uncolonized. By 1558, it was a haven for English pirates in the western Gulf of Mexico. Through the seventeenth century, repeated Spanish expeditions failed to roust the pirates. Finally in 1716 the pirates were driven out and a Spanish garrison installed, but the pirates continued to return and to burn the temporary forts. Only in the 1750s-1760s was a more permanent fort constructed. The regulations here are for the garrison that defended that fort.

In 1786, more than a decade after this work appeared, the Alcalde Mayor of Tabasco, Francisco de Amuzquivar, sent militia from Tabasco and swept the last of the pirates from the island. The island is now the site of Ciudad del Carmen.

Laments the Low Price of Henequen; Calls for Establishment of a Bank

5. CANTON, R[udolfo] G. Proyecto sobre la formacion de una sociedad y banco agricola. Varias relaciones relativa al Henequen. Merida: Imprenta de la Libreria Meridana de Canton, 1876. 8°, original beige printed wrappers (nicked at edges). In good to very good condition. Inscribed by author on title. to Sr. Steph. Salisburg Jr., dated 1877. 28 pp.

$500.00

FIRST and ONLY EDITION. Canton (a publisher as well as an author, judging from the imprint) deplors the current drop in the price of henequen and the scarcity of coinage in the Yucatán. He urges that landowners form an association to promote their interests and establish a bank to improve the flow of capital. In the section dealing with henequen in particular (pp. 17-24), Canton notes that the producers of the Yucatán have long been at the mercy of New York to sell their product, and gives details of prices and tariffs for trade with New York and the United States.

Henequen is a variety of agave similar to sisal, used for twine and cordage. Yucatan produces a large portion of the world's henequen. From colonial times until well into the twentieth century, henequen was raised on large plantations owned by a few land owners.

*First Constitution of the Mexican State of Chihuahua
Applied to Parts of Present-Day Texas, Arizona and New Mexico
Abolishes Slavery*

6. [CHIHUAHUA, MEXICO]. Constitucion politica del Estado Libre de Chihuahua sancionada por su Congreso Constituyente en 7 de Diciembre de 1825. Reimpresa en Chihuahua: En la oficina del Gobierno á cargo de Francisco Carrasco, 1826. 4°, disbound. In very good condition. 32 pp.

$3,800.00

Very rare early reprinting of the first constitution of the free Mexican state of Chihuahua, which then included the future city of El Paso, Texas. At the time Chihuahua also included parts of present day Arizona and New Mexico, which were later ceded to the United States in the Gadsden Purchase, 1853-1854. Titulo II, article 7, page 5 abolishes slavery In Chihuahua; the institution was abolished throughout Mexico only in 1829. This is one of the earliest works printed in Chihuahua. It is long and specific on the rights and obligations of the "Chihuahuenses" encompassing 21 "Títulos" with 129 articles.

EL COLEGIAL AL PENSADOR
SOBRE ELECCIONES DE ELECTORES.

Amigo mio: llenos del mayor gusto y complacencia, nos debemos dar mutuos parabienes en este día, al ver satisfechos nuestros sinceros patrióticos deseos; todo debe ser satisfacción y regocijo, admirando lo acertado de esta elección en beneméritos ciudadanos amantes del bien y de la patria; un conjunto de hombres de bien, de verdaderos patriotas decididos á cumplir el juramento, que á la faz del universo han proferido de guardar escrupulosamente el sagrado Código, que rige á la Monarquía Española, no ocupa otro objeto su atención, que el acertar en la elección que se ha confiado á ellos de la de electores de partido; y que sea esta conforme al espíritu, que en todo nos debe conducir. Ya estamos enteramente satisfechos, de haber terminado aquel partido de rivalidad, que ignorantemente ocupó algunos entendimientos poco cautos: hoy hemos dado una prueba nada equívoca al mundo entero de verdadera union con nuestros hermanos de Europa. Conduciéndonos el verdadero objeto de acertar; hemos puesto la vista en el virtuoso ciudadano, en el hombre sabio y de bien, y en el despreocupado constitucional: bajo este firme cimiento, vamos á fabricar nuestra dicha, y los felices resultados, los experimentaremos muy en breve. La union, la inestimable union, ese bien poco conocido de los enemigos de la patria, es el apoyo y fundamento de nuestra seguridad. Siendo unas mismas las ideas, unos mismos los medios; y uno mismo el fin, sin duda vamos á fijar un camino seguro, por donde sin tropiezos, y sin dificultades que vencer, hallemos la tan suspirada felicidad civil. Nos inspiran una completa satisfacción y confianza los sabios eclesiásticos, los íntegros, instruidos ministros, los constitucionales militares, los desinteresados ciudadanos, en una palabra, los que componen esa ilustre junta, en quien hemos depositado nuestros derechos, nos aseguran; que ni los respetos, ni la sangre, ni las intrigas han de torcer los sagrados deberes, ni las leyes con que se hallan comprometidos, escuden

Rare Printing from Celaya (Guanajuato) Opposing the Anti-Clerical Reforms of Benito Juárez and Helping Priests Bring Those Who Have Strayed Back to the Fold

10. COSTA, Juan Natividad [or Jean-Nativité Costa, or Jean-Noël Costa; and others]. Manual de Misioneros y protestas y circulares de Illm<sup>o</sup> Sr. Obispo de Michoacan. 3 parts in 1 volume. Celaya: Reimpreso por Guillermo Galvan, 1859. 4<sup>o</sup>, contemporary dark brown straight-grain morocco, gilt ruled and roll-tooled border on covers, flat spine with gilt bands and short title (minor wear). Elaborately designed title page with multiple fonts and flourishes. First printed title page browned at edges; light dampstain at lower edge. Overall in good to very good condition. (1 blank, 1 l.), 236 pp., (3 ll. indice, 1 blank l.), 93 pp., (1 blank, 1 l. indice, 1 blank ll.), 31 pp. 3 parts in 1 volume. $500.00

First edition in this form (?) of a compendium produced by the Church during the struggle between Conservatives and Liberals in mid-nineteenth-century Mexico. The Catholic Church hierarchy was struggling to defend its rights against attempts by the Liberals to limit its powers. It is unclear whether this volume has the same contents as Palau 184651 (Defensa eclesiástica en el obispado de Michoacan desde fines de 1855 hasta principios de 1858 o sea colección de representaciones y protestas, comunicaciones oficiales, circulares y decretos diocesanos); but that volume certainly does not include Costa's Manual de misioneros.

The Manual de misioneros is a translation of a guidebook written when priests were working to reestablish Catholicism in France after the French Revolution, ca. 1801. It includes much advice on matters that would have been of concern to Mexican prelates, e.g., how to cope in a diocese where the higher levels of the Church hierarchy are not present, how to act when the residents detest the Catholic priests, how to deal with those who refuse to come back to the fold, how to deal with priests who have sworn an oath to a secular government, who has the right to absolve those accused of heresy, how to deal with those who have received property confiscated from the Church, how to care for reliquaries and other sacred objects, and what the first steps should be in instructing people about Catholicism. The printed title for this part is Manual de misioneros, o ensayo sobre la conducta que pueden proponerse observar los sacerdotes llamados al restablecimiento de la religion en Francia. Obra postuma de ... traducido al castellano por D.P.V.C. Presbitero. Segunda edicion mejicana. Jean-Noël Nativité's Manuel des missionnaires, ou, Essai sur la conduite que peuvent se proposer de tenir les prêtres appelés à travailler au rétablissement de la religion catholique en France, originally published in Rome, 1801, was published in Spanish translation (apparently always by the same P.V.C.) at Palma, 1813 (OCLC 807537589, 3 copies); Barcelona, 1823 (804352839, 1 copy); Mexico, 1829 (255596519, 1 copy); and Madrid, 1839 (25121042, 3 copies).

The title page for the second part (with elaborate typography and ornaments, like the volume's main title page) is Protestas y pastorales del Y.S. Obispo de Michoacan. It includes a response by Bishop Clemente de Jesus Munguia and his Cabildo to the expropriation of ecclesiastical property in June 1856, with a long section on the origin of the Church's property ownership and how it is administered. Eleven other documents, the latest issued in January 1859, make further protests to the government, refusing to confirm the Constitution of 1857, refusing Catholic burials for those who have sworn to uphold it, and so on.

The title page for the third part is: Suplemento. Manifestacion que hacen al venerable clero y fieles de sus respectivas diócesis y á todo el mundo católico, los Illmos. Sres. Arzobispo de México y Obispos de Michoacan, Linares, Guadalajara y el Potosí, y el Sr. Dr. D. Francisco Serrano, como representante de la mitra de Puebla, en defensa del clero y de la doctrina catolica con ocasion del manifiesto y los decretos expedidos por el Sr. Lic. D. Benito Juarez en la Ciudad de Veracruz en los dias 7, 12, 13 y 23 de Julio de 1859. In this letter dated 30 August 1859, Archbishop of Mexico D. Lazaro de la Garza y Ballasteros, along with Bishop of Michoacán Clemente de Jesus Munguia and several other prominent clergy vehemently oppose the decrees issued by Benito Juarez in Veracruz in July 1859, which included the nationalization of Church property and a law permitting civil marriage. These events were part of the Reform War (Guerra de Reforma) of 1857-1861, during which the Liberals under Benito Juarez, among others, attempted to restrict the power of the Church and military, particularly by stripping the Church of its rights, powers, and property.

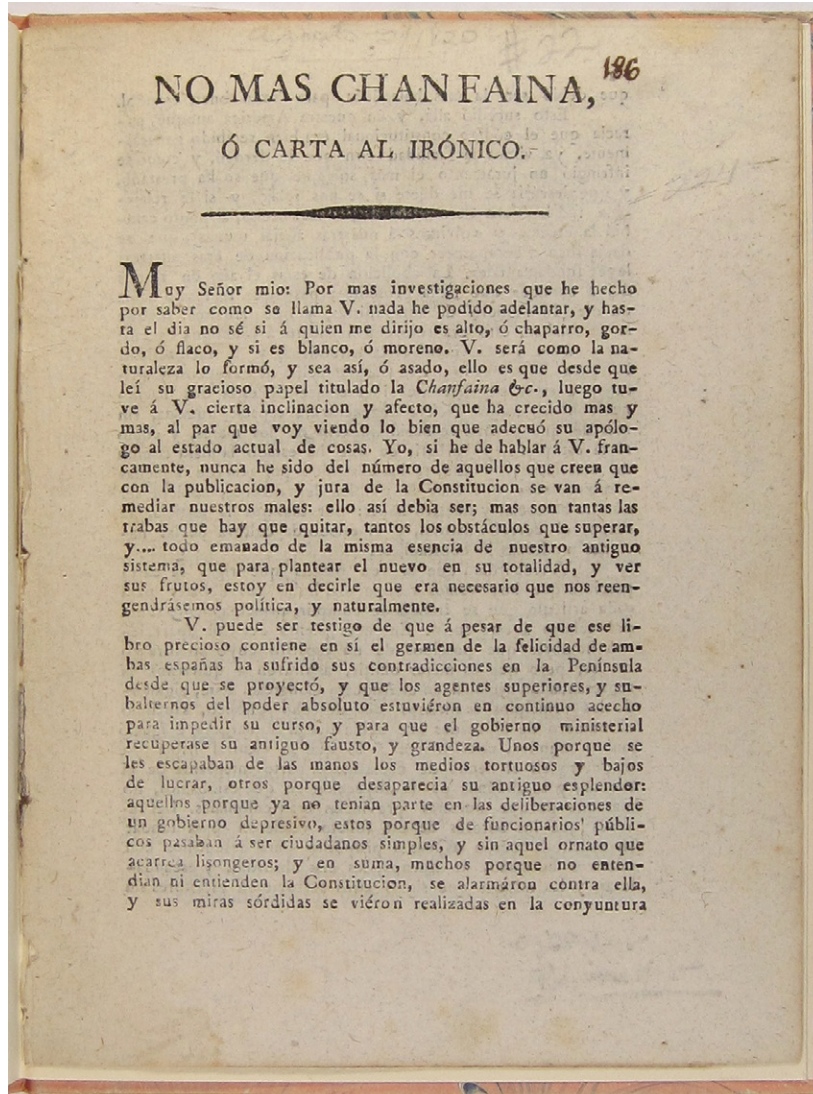

Celaya is in the province of Guanajuato, Mexico, some 200 km. northwest of Mexico City. The only earlier Celaya imprints listed in OCLC are two devotional works printed by Mariano Oñate in 1845.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION? Deals with a dispute over whether the Tesorero of the Casa de la Moneda of Mexico had the right to fire any of its employees. This is a point-by-point rebuttal by Velazquez of a work that had attacked one of his earlier writings on the subject. Velazquez seems to have written at least two other works on this matter, both without a date of publication: Alegacion por el Dr. D. Agustin Franco de Toledo sobre el oficio de tallador mayor de la Casa de Moneda, que fue de sus abuelos (Medina, Mexico 1887); and Alegacion en favor del derecho que tiene el superintendente de la Casa de Moneda para remover a los empleados en ella (cf. Beristain de Souza II, 300).

Velazquez, a native of Mexico, received his degree in law in 1666, and went on to become a noted lawyer of the Audiencia de Mexico. He served as advisor to five successive viceroys, and wrote over 6,000 judicial briefs, many of which were printed. In 1683 he became a priest, and was named curé of the Cathedral of Mexico in 1689. This work was presumably written while he was a practicing lawyer, between 1666 and 1683.

FIRST EDITION. Announces a Holy Jubilee for the first three months of 1855. Among the dozen rules set out for its observance in Mexico (pp. 15-21) is the requirement that no beggars be allowed at the doors of churches or inside them, "que no molesten ni turben á los que ocurran á cumplir con las visitas."

D. [José] Lazaro de la Garza y Ballesteros (Ojo de Agua en Valle de Pilón, Nuevo León, 1785-Barcelona, 1862), from illustrious families of Northern Mexico, with a doctorate in canon law, Bishop of Sonora in 1837, served as Archbishop of Mexico from 1850 to 1862. He strongly opposed the "Leyes de Reforma" which constituted a part of the Mexican federal constitution of 1857, an opposition which led to the Guerra de Reforma.

Provenance: Sir Thomas Phillipps, 1st Baronet (1792-1872) was an English antiquary and book collector who amassed the largest collection of manuscript material in the 19th century, due to his severe condition of bibliomania. He was an illegitimate son of a textile manufacturer and inherited a substantial estate, which he spent almost entirely on vellum manuscripts, and, when out of funds, borrowed heavily to buy manuscripts, thereby putting his family deep into debt. Phillipps began his collecting while still at Rugby and continued at Oxford. Eventually he acquired some 40,000 printed books and 60,000 manuscripts, arguably the largest collection a single individual has created, and coined the term "vello-maniac" to describe his obsession. A.N.L. Munby notes that he spent perhaps between two hundred thousand and a quarter of a million pounds, altogether four or five thousand pounds a year, while accessions came in at the rate of forty or fifty a week. He was an assiduous cataloguer who established the Middle Hill Press (named after his country seat at Broadway, Worcestershire) in 1822 not only to record his book holdings but also to publish his findings in English topography and genealogy. Ultimately, the dispersal of his collection took over 100 years. A five-volume history of the collection and its dispersal, Phillipps Studies, by A. N. L. Munby was published between 1951 and 1960.

Clean and crisp. In good to very good condition. 27 pp. $400.00

FIRST and ONLY EDITION. The Archbishop of Mexico advises his flock on how to behave during Lent, with particular attention to fasting, penitence, and holy works.

Francisco Xavier Lizana y Beaumont (La Rioja, 1750-Mexico City, 1815) was appointed bishop of Teruel (Aragon) in 1801 and soon afterwards was named archbishop of Mexico. He arrived there in early 1803 and held the position until his death. From July 19, 1809 to May 8, 1810, he was viceroy of New Spain.

This pastoral letter was issued on February 2, 1809. Later that month, the Junta de Aranjuez named him interim viceroy of Mexico. He recruited provincial militia and imported arms from Great Britain, as well as making a substantial contribution to the war against Napoleon in Spain. Although he was not pro-independence, he did not take vigorous action against those who were. In May 1810, the Junta replaced him as viceroy on pretense of his advanced age. His works include Carta pastoral que el Exmo. e. Illmo. Señor Dr. D. Francisco Xavier de Lizana y Beaumont, dirige á sus fieles súbditos sobre la falsedad de las promesas de Napoleon y su hermano Josef, Mexico, 1810.

representatives from areas that became part of the United States: Texas, New Mexico, Antigua and Nueva California. Also listed are deputies from the other Mexican states and from Guatemala, Nicaragua and Honduras. Some of the deputies were or became well known, for example: P. Refugio de la Garza (from San Antonio, Texas); Lorenzo de Zavala (representing Yucatan, later interim vice president of Texas), the Marques de San Juan de Rayas (José Mariano de Sardaneta y Llorente, from Mexico), and Miguel Guridi y Alcocer (Tlaxcala).

During the Mexican War of Independence, Agustín Cosme Damián de Iturbide y Arámburu (1783-1824), also known as Augustine I of Mexico, built a coalition of supporters among liberals, landed nobility, and the clergy that allowed him to take control of Mexico City in September 1821. In late 1821 he became president of the Regency, and the following May named himself constitutional emperor of Mexico. Iturbide's dismissal of the Congress in October 1822 (referred to in the caption of this work), in favor of a hand-picked junta that would answer only to him, led to the revolution under Guadalupe Victoria and López de Santa Anna that ultimately resulted in Iturbide's abdication in March 1823.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this official record of the inquiry into the alleged crimes of four former Mexican government ministers. Following his election to the Mexican presidency in March of 1833, General Santa Anna set out to bolster his position by discrediting four prominent members of the previous government, all of whom were widely believed to be responsible for the execution of the populist General Guerrero in 1831. The four were consequently accused and subjected to a government inquiry. Printed here are hundreds of documents relating to the inquiry and the ministers' conduct during the years 1830-1832.

29. [MEXICO]. Collection of Mexican constitutions and laws. Unusual and interesting collection of 34 works in 29 volumes, mostly constitutions and laws from Mexico and its component states, plus a few essays on related subjects. Dates range from 1821 to 1868, with three-quarters of the items printed in or before 1831. 34 works in 29 volumes. : , 1821-1868. , Nearly all are in very fine condition; half a dozen or so show some soiling or dampstaining. 34 works in 29 volumes. $90,000.00

The collection includes pieces printed at Mérida de Yucatán, Durango, Puebla, Ciudad Victoria, Chihuahua, Tlapam, Tabasco, San Luis Potosí, Ures, Jalapa, Saltillo and Tlaxcala. Such provincial printing from Mexico is quite rare. Of these works 17 are not in NUC and six more are cited at only one or two locations. Only five (four in copies inferior to those offered here) appeared in the celebrated Streeter sale—Streeter presumably would have been interested in all, or virtually all, of the items present in our collection, given his strong interest in Mexico, Texas and the Southwest.

The constitutions and legislation for the Federal Republic of Mexico also applied to much of the southwestern United States (California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Colorado, Texas) until Texas declared its independence in 1836 and Mexico ceded the area north of the Rio Grande following the Mexican-American War, 1846-1848. The states of Chihuahua, Sonora and Tamaulipas included present-day United States territory. The 1829 Leyes y decretos del honorable congreso segundo constitucional del estado de Chihuahua, for example, decreed relief for flood victims in El Paso (Texas). And the 1848 Mensaje del ciudadano General Francisco Vital Fernandez describes not only the loss of Laredo to the United States, but also the ravages inflicted on Tamaulipas by American forces and, after war's end, by American outlaws.

The dates of the constitutions and laws in this collection are as follow: Mexican Empire, 1821; Federal Republic of Mexico, 1823, 1824, 1824; Chihuahua, 1829, 1830, 1831, 1832; Coahuila, 1852; Durango, 1825, 1828, 1857; Guanajuato, 1826, 1828?; Mexico (State of), 1830; Oajaca, 1824; Puebla, 1825; Querétaro, 1825; San Luis Potosí, 1835; Sonora, 1848; Tabasco, 1831; Tamaulipas, 1825, 1848, 1848; Tlaxcala, 1868; Veracruz, 1848; Yucatán, 1823, 1824.

Also included in the collection are the first Mexican printing of the Constitution of the United States, 1823; two essays extolling the benefits of republican government in Mexico, both printed in Mexico, 1826; a translation by Juan Antonio Llorente of a collection of political aphorisms, Mexico 1822; Tadeo Ortiz de Ayala's Resumen de la estadística del imperio Mexicano, Mexico 1822; and Proyecto de una contribución nacional para engrosar y mantener la hacienda pública del Imperio Mexicano, Mexico 1822.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this scarce polemical pamphlet printed at Guadalajara dealing with Church-State relations and the Mexican Constitution. The Mexican Constitution of 1857, drafted during the presidency of Ignacio Comonfort, though liberal, retained most of the Roman Catholic Church's Colonial era privileges and revenues, but unlike the earlier constitution, did not mandate that the Catholic Church be the nation's exclusive religion. Moreover, it secularized education, and did away with certain exemptions from the jurisdiction of civil and criminal courts of the clergy and army. Such reforms were unacceptable to the leadership of the clergy and the Conservatives. Comonfort and members of his administration were excommunicated, and a revolt was En los Hospitales de segunda clase habrá en cada uno, un Contralor con 300 pesos anuales y un Capellan con 840.

5.º Los empleados facultativos de los Hospitales militares los nombrará el Gobierno por el Ministerio de la Guerra á propuesta de la Di-then declared, leading to the War of Reform, from December 1857 to January 1861. This civil war became increasingly bloody and polarized the nation's politics. Many of the Moderates came over to the side of the Liberals, convinced that the great political power of the Church needed to be curbed. For some time, the Liberals and Conservatives had their own governments, the Conservatives in Mexico City and the Liberals headquartered in Veracruz. The war ended with Liberal victory, and Liberal president Benito Juárez moved his administration to Mexico City.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this letter from the archbishop of Mexico to the clergy serving there. He expresses his grief over the behavior of some of them, and insists that bishops and curates must live in their parishes or suffer penalties. He allows "vacations" if they comply for a year and sets rules for sick leave and family leave.

He also insists that the clergy be there not merely in body, but that they be educating their flocks ("residencia personal, formal, activa, eficaz, y laboriosa," p. 13). For example, they are to personally instruct parishioners old and young in the rudiments of Christianity. The procedure for doing so is set out explicitly; for example, if the ringing of the bell doesn't attract enough of the town's children, the priest must send out sacristans, school teachers, and others to bring the children to the church.

The archbishop's third point (pp. 21-22) is that ecclesiastical judges must not maltreat the Indians under their jurisdiction: they should not be punished with the same severity that is meted out to those thoroughly familiar with Church doctrine.

In a final point, he requires that local clergy not leave bodies unburied pending payment of the usual amount to the parish: "Es cosa de pernicioso exemplo, y escandalosa al Pueblo" (p. 22-23).

Rubio y Salinas (1702-1765) was born in Colmenar, Castilla la Nueva, and held a variety of church posts before being appointed archbishop of Mexico in 1747, a post he held until his death 17 years later.

Santissimo Padre Clemente XIII ....* (Mexico): Imprenta de la Bibliotheca Mexicana, 1760. 4°, disbound. Woodcut initial letter. From the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps. (1 l.), 17 pp. $800.00

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this edict issued by Rubio y Salinas in August 1760. It summarizes the proclamation of Pope Clement XIII designating 1760 as a Jubilee Year, and the subsequent supporting proclamation issued by Charles III of Spain. The faithful are instructed in the proper ways of observing the Jubilee Year and the terms under which indulgences will be granted.

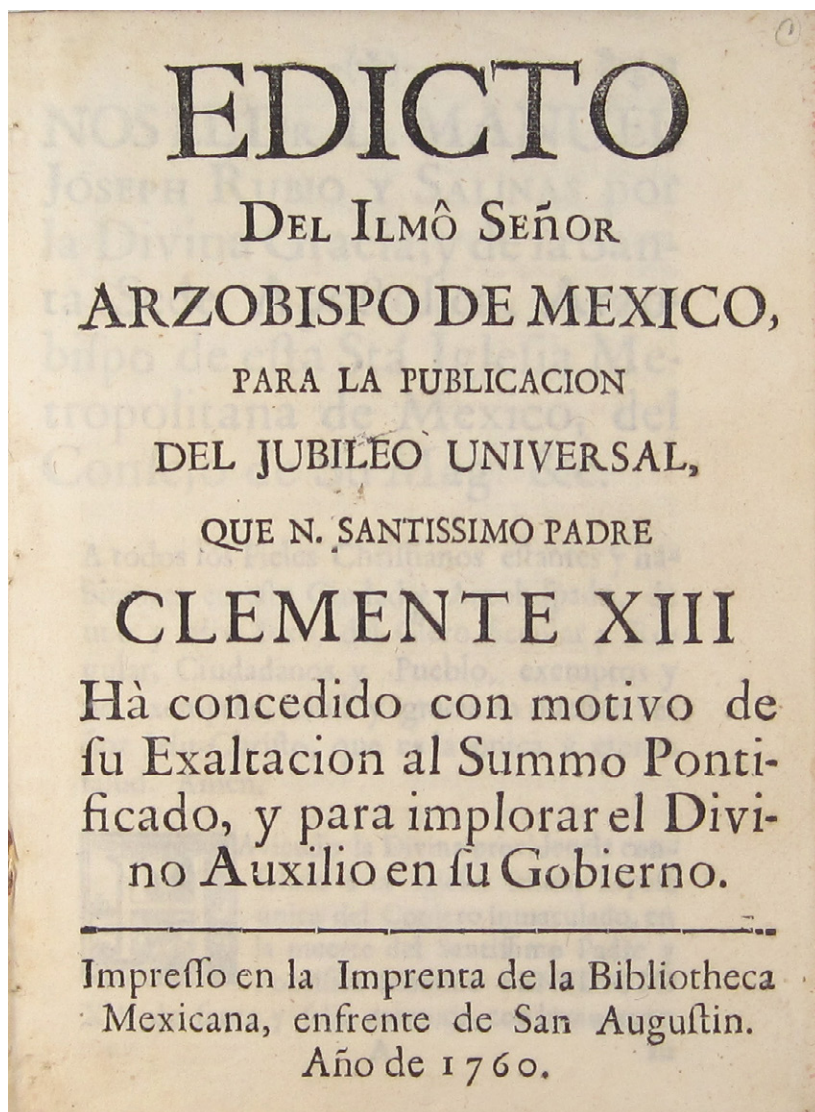

Rubio y Salinas (1702-1765) was born in Spain and held a variety of church posts before being appointed archbishop of Mexico in 1747, a post he held until his death.

Provenance: Sir Thomas Phillipps, 1st Baronet (1792-1872) was an English antiquary and book collector who amassed the largest collection of manuscript material in the 19th century, due to his severe condition of bibliomania. He was an illegitimate son of a textile manufacturer and inherited a substantial estate, which he spent almost entirely on vellum manuscripts, and, when out of funds, borrowed heavily to buy manuscripts, thereby putting his family deep into debt. Phillipps began his collecting while still at Rugby and continued at Oxford. Eventually he acquired some 40,000 printed books and 60,000 manuscripts, arguably the largest collection a single individual has created, and coined the term “vello-maniac” to describe his obsession. A.N.L. Munby notes that he spent perhaps between two hundred thousand and a quarter of a million pounds, altogether four or five thousand pounds a year, while accessions came in at the rate of forty or fifty a week. He was an assiduous cataloguer who established the Middle Hill Press (named after his country seat at Broadway, Worcestershire) in 1822 not only to record his book holdings but also to publish his findings in English topography and genealogy. Ultimately, the dispersal of his collection took over 100 years. A five-volume history of the collection and its dispersal, Phillipps Studies, by A. N. L. Munby was published between 1951 and 1960.

FIRST and ONLY EDITION of this pamphlet exhorting Mexican clergy to support their captive king, D. Fernando VII against the machinations of Napoleon and his brother Joseph Bonaparte, named king of Spain and the Indies in 1808. It was issued slightly less than six months prior to Hidalgo’s “Grito de Dolores”. Joseph Bonaparte had been trying to lure loyal Americans to his side: "Falso rey Josef, los fidelisimos americanos se burlan de tus papeles sediciosos, de tus pomposas ofertas, de tus lisonjeros futuros proyectos ...."

The pamphlet was issued by Isidoro Sainz de Alfaro acting as archbishop of Mexico on behalf of Francisco Xavier de Lizana y Baumont, who was at the time archbishop of Mexico as well as viceroy, governor and captain-general of New Spain. Sainz de Alfaro mentions Napoleon's treatment of the pope, and besides New Spain, mentions Nicaragua, Campeche, Guatemala and the Philippines.

(1 l.), 7 pp., (1 l.); the first and last leaves could be considered original printed wrappers. $1,600.00

FIRST EDITION of this letter dated December 15, 1829; it appeared again in Guatemala, 1830. The text on p. 1 begins: "El General de Division Antonio Lopez de Santa-Anna a sus compatriotas. Véome nuevamente en el case de difigir la palabra á mis conciudadanos ...." In this letter written from his hacienda of Manga de Clavo in Veracruz, where he was recovering from wounds suffered in the service of his country, Lopez de Santa Anna describes the political unrest in Mexico and why he is siding with Anastasio Bustamante.

During the summer of 1829, the Barradas Expedition landed at Tampico. It was Spain's final attempt to regain control of Mexico. By September, Lopez de Santa Anna had forced the Spanish to surrender, consolidating Mexican independence and increasing his own popularity. He styled himself the "Victor of Tampico," the "Savior of the Motherland," or "The Napoleon of the West."

On December 4, 1829, with Lopez de Santa Anna's support, Vice President Anastasio Bustamente rebelled against President Vicente Guerrero, who had come to power by a revolution in Mexico City less than a year earlier. The present Manifiesto was issued by Lopez de Santa Anna two days before Guerrero was captured. Over the course of 40 years, Santa Anna went on to serve 11 terms as president of the Republic. His political base was in the port city of Veracruz, where this pamphlet was printed.
